The Brooke Media Center houses approximately 15,000 books, 334 periodicals, and 650 pieces of audio-visual software such as videos, sound filmstrips, etc. The Media Center is also home to several online encyclopedias and reference tools that are available to students and teachers for current research. Some of these reference tools are the Access Pennsylvania Power Library, which is a database of thousands of educational resources such as reference, magazines, pictures, newspapers, encyclopedias, almanacs, maps and more; and World Book and Encarta encyclopedias with current, readable and outstanding graphics. The World Book Online Encyclopedia is also available to Brooke students in their home computers through remote access. NetTrekker is a search engine that is also available to all Brooke students and parents. It directs students exclusively to "safe" websites that they can utilize at school or at home for information for reports and homework assignments. Passwords for World Book and NetTrekker are available through the Media Center
